The truth is that I thought we continued receiving as long as they were planning to deliver material, then, we didn't start making plans to demobilize the landfill compactor until they changed to using the subsidence in Hockerville for disposal. Also, as I recollect, we kept the landfill compactor a little longer than necessary after they started hauling to the Hockerville subsidence as some 25% or so of the homes weren't yet released for demolition and they were closer the repository and we were expecting the state contractor to get permission to demo those. However, as far as I know, those remaining houses were never released and are still standing, we finally decided to direct our subcontractor to release the landfill compactor.

I just need to round up the correspondence and or meeting minutes to confirm my recollection as being correct.

Regards,
Terry McElveen

No problem Terry - I appreciate you looking. I had a previous email exchange with Ursala about the closing of the Repository for use by the Trust and she advised that the repository was never closed for use by the trust. It seems you have a different recollection as does the trust. Hopefully you will be able to reconcile this.

Subject: question from yesterday

Susan,

I haven't forgotten about your request (I know I promised to reply by this morning and just realized it was noon) from yesterday regarding the time frame and correspondence with state regarding when we stopped receiving C&D at the repository last year, but don't have the emails from that time period with me. I am travelling home tomorrow and may have correspondence from that time period saved on a drive that is there. However, as I mentioned on the phone, I had a hard drive crash that wiped out much of my documents, even our IT department couldn't recover.

The only thing I should be able to locate are meeting minutes from that time period and will have Jessi look through. However, I do believe we have previously provided Ursula with that information, also, I have been directed to keep her in the loop for information provided to OIG, so copied her on this reply.

Regards,
Terry McElveen
